I found Imbue Botanicals about 3 years ago when I woke up in the middle of the night and I had unexpected tooth pain and it was very painful. And I had recently purchased some CBD liquid tincture and it was sitting on my night table so I put that on the tooth and around the area and within 2 minutes the pain was gone. I was greatly relieved and extremely impressed.

So in the morning I called the company and after talking to Tom, the owner, I decided to become a distributor and to carry these products in my psychotherapy practice. I have always had anxiety because of childhood trauma and I've never taken antidepressants or anti-anxiety medication. Tom recommended that I take the CBD oil capsules, 10 mg per day. Within 2 weeks I could notice a difference in my anxiety levels. So I began recommending this for my clients.

about imbue

Realizing the TRUE POTENTIAL of CBD

As one of the very first companies in the US CBD space, Imbue Botanicals was at the very forefront of using US grown hemp in our manufacturing process. When we started, virtually every other CBD company imported their hemp and hemp oils from countries like China or Romania. For us, that was a nonstarter. Without having direct oversight with the growing and manufacturing process, we knew we couldn't ensure that our products would meet the medical grade standards we knew we had to achieve.

That's because the initial impetus behind the start of the company wasn't some "get rich quick" scheme. Rather, the motivation for starting the company was to find a solution to a serious medical problem one of the founders had...severe progressive neuropathy. At a point where none of the available medical or pharmaceutical solutions were proving effective any longer, the search for a relief from this debilitating condition resulted in the formulation of our first topical and oral products. And the results were nothing short of miraculous. Now some 6 years later, these very same products continue not only to provide relief from neuropathy but allow for a virtually neuropathy-free life!

So knowing we could formulate highly clinically-effective CBD products, we moved forward to expand our offering, create our branding and bring our passion to bear. And from that, the company...and the product line...grew.

The passage of the 2014 Farm Bill gave us the entrée we needed to develop our US-based supply chain and we've never looked back. But it wasn't just US-grown that we wanted. We wanted to find the very best place to grow hemp in the US and use that exclusively. We found that in Colorado. Every hemp plant we use is grown, processed and extracted in Colorado. And virtually all of our products are made there.

But our innovation was just beginning. From developing one of the few commercially available vegetable glycerin-based tinctures to being first in market with a CBD capsule to topicals that worked across a myriad of maladies, we led the way in developing clinically efficacious CBD products. Imbue Botanicals has become the CBD brand pharmacists trust. We were instrumental in opening up the independent pharmacy market for CBD... and with good reason. We offer the most extensive line of premium, clinical-grade CBD products, including tinctures, supplement-enhanced raw honey tinctures, capsules, gummies and topical lotions and salves, and even dental products...all available in multiple strengths... for both people and pets. All our premium Colorado grown hemp products are organic, non-GMO, cruelty free, and vegan.

With nearly three decades of experience, the founders of im·bue botanicals are passionate about utilizing our expertise and know-how to deliver exclusive, proprietary products, designed and envisioned to provide outstanding results. Our "Earth First" approach to business as well as consumer wellbeing is fundamental to all that we do.

We masterfully formulate our products for optimal concentrations. While other companies simply "white label" from large processors, we developed and own all our formulations. At Imbue Botanicals, we wrote the book for the most extensive product quality testing in the industry, and all of our products are batch tested by independent laboratories prior to shipment to ensure quality and consistency.

So whether you need hemp products for you or your four-legged family members, we have you covered. With safe, quality products, wonderfully reviewed that really work. Made in the USA and delivered right to your doorstep or available from select retailers and independent pharmacies, there's only one Imbue Botanicals.
